KOHEI MIURA VISITING PROFESSORSHIP AT CHUBU UNIVERSITY

~ CALL FOR APPLICATIONS ~

The Ohio University - Chubu University Relations Committee (CRC) of the East Asian Studies Program is pleased to announce a Call for Applications for the 2009-2010 Kohei Miura Visiting Professorship, named in honor of the founder of Chubu University.

Each year since 1973, Ohio University has sent a faculty member to Chubu University in Kasugai City, Japan. Kohei Miura Visiting Professors are expected to engage in an active program of scholarship that may include activities such as teaching a regular course or seminar; teaching short-term workshops; delivering lectures; giving guest presentations in classes and seminars; engaging in research activities; conducting independent study programs with students and/or professors; participating in outreach activities; acting as consultants in areas such as library development, research, pedagogy, and others.

The successful applicant will be an Ohio University Group 1 faculty member who is able to be in residence at Chubu University during spring quarter. Round-trip transportation, housing, and a modest monthly expense reimbursement will be provided.

To submit an application for the 2009-2010 Kohei Miura Visiting Professorship, please send a current curriculum vitae and cover letter, addressed to the CRC, detailing your interest in the position, teaching capabilities, and current research focus relevant to this position by Friday, November 6, 2009 to:
